Creative Steps towards Champions

Eight Years ago, I participated in a creative walking competition at my school. This event was part of the independence day celebration held by the local sub-district. And many schools in our sub-district participated.

Before the competition my friends and I practiced for almost a month. We prepared a special formation and added creative movements. On the day of the competition I felt nervous but also excited and many people lined up on the side of the road to watch us. When it was our turn to perform, we gave our best performance. We smiled, moving with the formation we made and shouted cheers with enthusiasm. We walked 5.5 kilometers to complete our journey.

Finally our team won 1st place beating so many schools. I am very proud of our efforts and hard work together. This experience taught me about discipline, creativity, and the importance of cooperation. It was one of my valuable experiences in my life.

Where Stories Brought Us Closer

I had an unforgettable time with my big family in 2023. Amazingly, every single one of my grandfather's several siblings was able to join us for dinner. The dinner was incredibly special even if it was not fancy. We talked and shared stories before we ate, some of them humorous, some scary, and some simply strange. The evening was made much more fun by the games we played together. It was memorable because we hadn't met like that in while. Simply enjoying being around each other after a long time apart felt extremely essential.

"Those who Never Give up"

Orientation :
 A few month ago, I had a very meaningful experience. I saw many people working hard on the street, especially the elderly.

Series of Events :
 That day, I was on a trip with my friends to go somewhere. Suddenly, it started to rain, so we decided to take shelter. Coincidentally, at the same place there were some people working on a building. They seemed to be taking a break because of the rain. Among them, I noticed a few who were quite old like grandfathers. Since the rain lasted quite a while, we had a chance to chat with them. What I remember the most was one grandfather who told us he had a daughter who was already married. He said he chose to keep working to support himself because he felt ashamed to ask for money from his married daughter. My heart was deeply touched I thought that at their age, they should be enjoying their old days in peace, not working so hard. But in reality, they kept working to fulfill their basic needs.

Reorientation :
 That experience opened my eyes and made me reflect deeply. I learned to be more grateful for what I have, to appreciate the hard work of others, and to never underestimate anyone. I will always remember that moment and take it as a valuable lesson in my life.
